FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Phillips Plastics Corporation® and Pro-Tek Medical Ltd. Announce the Formation of CerBo Ltd., a Joint Venture Serving Medical OEM's.

Prescott, Wisconsin – Phillips Plastics Corporation and Pro-Tek Medical Ltd. announced in October the launch of a joint venture, CerBo Limited, a design and manufacturing operation located in Sligo, Ireland. This joint venture combines Phillips Plastics' history of being a supplier of choice by managing design through distribution and Pro Tek Medicals' comprehensive outsourcing solutions. The creation of CerBo Ltd. will expand Phillips' global footprint; as Phillips Director of Business Development Kevin Hosmer explains, "CerBo Ltd. will offer customers increased global reach by providing design and manufacturing options for the production of medical devices in the USA and Ireland. The partnership combines the strengths of both companies allowing new and existing customers from Europe and North America access to combined technologies and global resources."

Plastics Founder and CEO), Frank Boyle (Pro-Tek Medical - Managing Director), Eamon O'Connell (Pro-Tek Medical – Engineering Manager), and Kevin Hosmer (Phillips Plastics Sales Director – New Technologies)
